

The FCC should make the New Jersey "Do not call List" a model for the whole nation so that the telemarketers will be put out of business.

If their business is good, these companies should use legitimate advertising or use the mail.